

Providing a fun and spooky Halloween event for kids, the Hite family of Grant and assorted community members constructed a “haunted movie theatre” haunted house and gave tours on Sunday, Oct. 30.

“We do something like this about every other year just for some fun and to give kids something else to do on Halloween,” said Shayne Hite, mastermind of the macabre.

The haunted movie theatre included a wax museum, concession stand, movie lounge and theatre, each with gruesome surprises in store for the approximately 60 kids who were brave enough to attend.
