

Lady Antebellum's previously announced performance at NEBRASKAland DAYS in North Platte on June 21, 2013 has been cancelled.

Hillary Scott is expecting her first baby and will not be able to travel and perform through the summer.

NEBRASKAland DAYS remains committed to providing first class entertainment for the 2013 celebration, and organizers are working as quickly as possible to replace Lady Antebellum. An announcement will be made on the new lineup as soon as it is finalized.

In the meantime, ticket sales for the 2013 Country Concert have been halted. Patrons are being asked to hold their tickets until such time as the new lineup is announced.

NEBRASKAland DAYS will issue refunds to patrons who do not wish to see the show once the new lineup is announced.
