

Chemigation training during 2011 will take place at four sites in Southwest Nebraska.

Chemigation training takes approximately three hours and includes a written test.

Anyone who wants to chemigate during 2011 for the first time or who needs to recertify will have to attend one of the four sessions planned.

To become certified to chemigate, they must also pass the test that will be administered.

All of the subject matter on the test will be covered in the educational session.

Training will be held at these locations:

Imperial, fairgrounds, Feb. 16, 1:30 p.m., MT

Imperial, fairgrounds, Feb. 16, 7 p.m., MT

Trenton, TCDC building, Feb. 23, 1 p.m. CT

McCook, fairgrounds 4-H building, March 10, 1 p.m., CT

There is no charge to attend chemigation training. For more information on the chemigation training, call Robert Tigner, 308-882-4731 or rtigner2@unl.edu.
