

Join a FREE, live web-based program designed for youth group volunteers, parents and youth professionals. Three separate web-based programs are being offered on the best practices to engage youth in community programs.

Explore the benefits and barriers of youth engagement and learn how positive relationships can grow from youth/adult partnerships.

Develop strategies and techniques to implement directly with the youth, parents, and volunteers being worked with.

Register online at: <http://4h.unl.edu/givingyourbestwebseminars>. Once registered an email with the webinar link and additional information related to each program will be sent.

Participate from the home or anywhere there is access to the internet. Each program will meet on-line for 45 minutes to help connect parents and volunteers to pertinent development knowledge.

Choose to participate in one or all of three different web-based programs from noon to 12:45 p.m. CST or from 7-7:45 p.m. CST.

- Jan. 22, 2013—Engage Every Parent: Strategies for Success
- Jan. 29, 2013—Engage Youth through Active Learning
- Feb. 5, 2013—Engaging Youth-Adult Partnerships

All programs will be presented by area UNL 4-H Youth Development Extension Educators. For information or to download a flier call the extension office or go online to <http://4h.unl.edu>.