

Six individuals and the members of one team were inducted into the Central Community College Athletic Hall of Fame Nov. 10 at a banquet at the Elks Country Club in Columbus.

The theme was “Celebrating Greatness” for this year’s event, which recognizes outstanding athletes, teams, coaches and other individuals who have distinguished themselves by making substantial contributions to CCC athletics.

Lisa (Jones) Pankonin was a member of the 1975 women’s volleyball team elected for induction. This Region IX championship team became the first Raider Volleyball team to qualify for the National Junior College Tournament.
