

Midland Lutheran College in collaboration with The Young Americans, is hosting two one-week performing arts camps this summer on the college campus in Fremont.

Students will be coming in from all over the country and even all over the world to take advantage of and to participate in this wonderful opportunity.

The first week will be the Creative Camp and the second week will be the Broadway Camp.

The camps will be directed by The Young Americans' Artistic Director Bill Brawley, resident choreographer Robyn Brawley, and a cast of 40 young, talented performers who have just returned from a three-month European tour as well as a group of Midland Lutheran College choir members and their director, Jim Logue.

Participants will be provided with both food and lodging and will get the opportunity to perform at the end of each camp to showcase all they learn.

The Creative Camp will be held from July 12–17; and will focus on both vocals and dance. The purpose of this camp is to explore artistry of all kinds, focusing on creative, visual and performing arts.

For the full story, subscribe to our e-Editions for $29/year.

Call 308-352-4311 for details.