

Back by popular demand

By Ashleigh Noyes

Tribune Columnist

There are some things you try and just know they will become a favorite in your recipe collection—this was the case with the “Best Ever Queso Dip” I shared over the summer.

Last week during the Chamber Christmas open house, the dip was among the goodies shared with shoppers at the Tribune. Talk about a hit! Several who tasted the dip gave it a definite thumbs up and asked for the recipe right there on the spot.

It’s a keeper—and here it is again, by popular demand! It’s a quick, simple, perfect snack.

Best Ever Queso Dip

1/2 - 3/4 block Velveeta cheese, cubed

1 can cream of mushroom soup

8 oz. sour cream

1 medium jar of salsa

1 can Hormel chili with no beans

Place all ingredients in a small crock pot and mix well. Turn on low heat until heated through and cheese is melted.

Serve with your favorite chips for dipping.