

Temperatures that dipped well below freezing didn't seem to halt frolic of students who were delighted to have a day off Monday following another winter storm that rolled through Saturday night and throughout the day Sunday. The snowstorm was the second of 2011—the first occurring over New Year's weekend. The McArtor brothers, James (left) and Sam, enjoyed running and jumping onto sleds to glide downhill on the family's driveway. All schools in the area were closed following the snow that was accompanied by severe cold. Some schools in the area also delayed start times on Tuesday. (Photo by Jan Rahn)
