

In last week's issue, there were photos and information about the three gas stations in Grant. The price listed for Frenchman Valley Coop was misleading. The Tribune reported that gas at the Frenchman was $3.73, while prices at the other two stations were around the $3.60 mark. The price for premium unleaded (blended) at Frenchman is actually $3.63—the $3.73 price is for true unleaded.

Frenchman is the only station in town that carries true unleaded gasoline; the others are blended. Thus, the prices of the three stations in Grant are very competitive for blended fuel. The Tribune is sorry for any confusion.
