

Fire prevention was being taught everywhere by community departments during Fire Prevention Week Oct. 7-13. Youngsters were educated on several aspects of what to expect, who to expect, and how to make it to safety in the event of a home fire. At Perkins County Elementary in Grant, volunteer firefighters put together a demonstration for kindergarten, first and second graders. In photo (l-r) Kenna Dickinson, Mikayla Davidson and Kaila Bullock got a chance to feel the helmet and touch the protective bunker gear worn by Fire Captain Harlan Rahn of the Grant Volunteer Fire Department.
