

The North Platte Community College music and art departments will present a concert and art showing at 7:30 p.m. CT on Thursday, (today) Dec. 2, at the McDonald-Belton Theater on the South Campus of the college.

The concert will feature the college choir and jazz band. The public is invited to view art work presented by the students of NPCC art instructor Dik Haneline before and after the concert.

The choir will present several traditional Christmas Songs including, "Silent Night," "Deck the Halls," and "Winter Wonderland." The band will present Christmas music put to a "swing beat" including, "Dashing Through The Snow," "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen," and a medley of Christmas carols.

The choir is directed by Elizabeth Peters, with Gayle Lawson as the accompanist. The band is directed by Virgil French.

Members of the NPCC Choir are: Bert Ogg of Madrid; Talia Cole of Gothenburg; Nicole Cox, Ann Kuroki, and Ivy Kuroki of Hershey; Scott Gray of Mullen; Ellen Duggan-Bailey, Raven Berggren, Mikayla Brauer, Brittany Davis, Amanda Ferguson, Adriana Flores, Cassandra Horn, Traci Marsh, KateLynn Moore, Reggie Titus, Nikki Radke and Jeffery Small of North Platte; and Jessica Fisher and April Troxel of Ogallala.

Members of the NPCC Jazz Band are: Bert Ogg of Madrid; Talia Cole of Gothenburg; Justin Lafferty of Hershey; Raven Berggren, Mikayla Brauer, Brittany Davis, Adriana Flores, Josh Goodwin, Aubrey Halligan, Kate Hergenrader, Hannah Hokanson, Cassandra Horn, Natasha Jahnke, Ben Miller, Traci Marsh, Levi Most, Jill Peterson and Robert Rucker of North Platte; Jessica Lenhart and April Troxel of Ogallala; and Victoria Daly of Sutherland.

The event is free and open to the public.