

Perkins County Middle School eighth grader Kendra Hoffert explains some of the findings in her science fair experiment to senior Michael York, who is judging the project. The projects will be displayed in North Platte at a later date. Winners will go on to Lincoln for state competition. The projects were also on display in the middle school gym for the parent-teacher conferences held on Thursday, March 3. (Photo by Ashleigh Noyes)