

Although the fall term at Mid-Plains Community College officially began in August, the college will offer numerous late starting classes beginning the week of Sept. 23.

Classes include College Success, Comparative Politics, CPR Rescuer, Creative Writing, 20th Century Fiction, Short Fiction, Introduction to Critical Thinking, Introduction to Early Childhood Education and Introduction to Sociology.

“Our late starting classes were formed for those who may have missed the opportunity to start classes at the beginning of the semester or maybe they started somewhere else that wasn’t a good fit and are now back home. By enrolling in these classes they won’t have wasted an entire semester,” said Chuck Salestrom, area associate vice president of marketing, public information and development.

Students may register through the first week of the class that is being offered. It is strongly recommended that students wishing to register make an advising appointment by calling 308-535-3774 in North Platte or 308-345-8102 in McCook.

MPCC offers scholarships, grants and loans available to all qualified students and financial situations. For more information, contact Juanita Czarnick in North Platte at 308-535-3708 or Dale Brown in McCook at 308-345-8112.
